NUM. 5036

TUESDAY, JULY 2, 1745.

Dresden, June 30.

HE Count del Bene, his Catholic Majesty's Minister at the Dyet of Franckfort, arrived here Yesterday, and had an Audience of his Majesty this Morning; but we are still as much in the Dark as to the Design of his Embassy, as ever. We are by no means satisfied with the Answer given to the Court of Peterburgh, on the Czars's being inclined to the Treaty of Warsaw; and the less we have heard that it so little answer'd the Expectation of M. de Dies, the Dutch Minister, that he desired to return Home. Yet this Answer was given in very civil Terms; implying, 'That her Imperial Majesty would fulfil the Engagements into which she had already enter'd; and in order to be in the better Condition to fulfil them, would decline entering into any more.' We attribute this Temper in the Russian Court to the News of the King of Prussia's Entry, and a Memorial presented by the Baron de Manteuffel thereupon, in which he says, That her Imperial Majesty in her great Wisdom having declar'd the entering Silesia did not oblige her to execute her Duty of that Country, his Prussian Majesty cannot the very same Reasons will induce her Majesty to succour the King of Poland, if the King, his Majesty, should think fit to attack him. In short, the Prussians find herself so embarrassed by the Demands made by the Parties, that it seems extremely doubtful whether they will assist any; But if the Affairs at all, we have reason to hope it will be in our Favour. The Prussians in the Vicinity of Magdebourg have begun to march, and are in daily Expectation of a Train of Artillery, and a great Convoy of Provisions; on the Arrival of which, there seems to be no doubt of their acting vigorously; and therefore we redouble our Precautions to prevent a Surprise. The Ministers of the Maritime Powers conferred Yesterday and the Day following with the Count de Brühl, on the Affairs of Bohemia, and another great Conference is appointed for the 10th, from whence we conjecture, that some Convention, or Convention, is on the Carpet; the result, however, is certain that his Majesty has greatly improved the Terms of his Agreement. On the 15th of this Month a very new and unusual Edict was publish'd, which the Inhabitants of this Place are forbid to disseminate, or to publish News that may tend to disturb the Minds of the People. It is likewise order'd, that strict Orders have been sent to the Duke of Saxe-Weissenfels, to restrain his Officers and Soldiers from writing what passes in the Camp; but it seems that these Restrictions extend to the Court, since it is already discour'd there, that the Prussians were really in Disorder into Silesia. However, to be even with the Ministers, who will not allow us to say what we please, we are pleas'd to believe what they say; for the present, the Account is settled between us.

July 1. Two of our Magistrates have been sent to compliment the Field-Marshal Traun and Baron on their Arrival in our Neighbourhood, and to deliver them the usual Presents. It is impossible to say how very precise as to the Strength of these Armies; but at present we are told, that Field-Marshal Traun consists of 30 Battalions, which makes 24,000 Men; and that Marshal Bathian's is very little, if at all; and their Horse and Irregular Troops in proportion. We have a more exact Account of the Strength of the French Force: The Infantry consisted of 81 Bataillons, and 1130 Men, in several Independent Companies. The Cavalry was composed of 23 Regiments, of Five Squadrons each; the Dragoons of Eight Regiments, of Five Squadrons each; and Two Regiments of Mousquetaires, consisting each of Four Squadrons. Taking these Troops together, they made 120 Battalions, and 12,000 Men; but then, taking off 20 Battalions, and 2,000 Men, that were detached to join the Royal Army in Flanders, it will greatly reduce it. But, on the other hand, as the 15 Battalions of German Troops, French Pay; Four French Battalions, and 20 Squadrons, which were under the Command of the Count de Saxe, have since joined the Prince of Conti, his Army cannot at present fall much short of the Austrians; and he takes all imaginable Care to fortify the Posts he possesses, and has a very fine Train of Artillery, which he apprehends will be the stopping the Passage of the Army of the Allies towards Mentz. We very speedily expect that Elector here, as also his Electoral Highness of Cologne, who proposes to assist in Person at the Election; and will appear with such Magnificence as has scarce been seen in Germany. The Hanoverian Ministers will be here next Week; and we are already preparing their Quarters. One would not imagine, from the Ease and Harmony with which all Things are carried on in the Dyet, that they are under any Apprehension from either of the Armies; but, perhaps, they may depend on the Protection of a Third Army; since the Rumour is revived of the associated Circles resolving to bring a great Corps into the Field, in order to cover this City till the Election is over; but notwithstanding some People are very positive in this, the wisest People here are a little doubtful of it; and the rather, because the French Ministers give out, very positively, that their Master was invited into the Empire to protect the Dyet of Election, and that by some of the States that are to furnish Troops for this Army. We likewise doubt about another Piece of News; which is, that all Differences being compromised between the Court of Vienna and Prince William of Hesse, the Forces that were disarmed at Ingolstadt, have had Leave given them to return Home; and the Three Battalions of Austrians left to guard them, have had Orders to join, without Delay, the Army of the Allies. The Reason of our Doubt is, that our Letters from Cassel are not written at all in this Language.

Hague, July 7. They write from Antwerp, that the Count de Sade, who has been for some time a Prisoner there, set out lately for Brussels; from whence he will return to France; but to what Accident he owes his Liberty, our Letters are silent. The Prince of Conti, it seems, has begun again to plunder the Electorate of Mentz, under Pretence of making Reprisals for the Outrages committed by the Austrians in the Territories of the Elector Palatine. Our Letters from Franckfort still continue to assure us, that the Ministers of France, and their Party, are contriving a long Manifesto in reference to the Election, which will be publish'd the very Day the Elector of Mentz arrives, and is to contain a Multitude of very extraordinary Facts; but it is hoped they will add Proofs likewise, without which, they can have no great Cause to expect that what they advance should be believed. All our Intelligence from Brussels, mention the Inhabitants of that City, as under a vast Concern on the French undertaking the Siege of Aeth, which is what they did not at all expect; and which seems to shew a strong Inclination in the French to advance into the Neighbourhood of Brussels itself, if their Progress be not speedily check'd by a Batt'e. We have detach'd Part of our Foot Guards to reinforce the Army; and it is hoped the Austrian, and other Reinforcements they expect, will join them before the Close of this Month, and enable them to act offensively, as in the Beginning of the Campaign.

IRELAND.

Dublin, June 25. Last Week a Marble Pillar, with an Urn and Mitre on the Top, was erected in St. Peter's Church-yard, to the Memory of Dr. Rundell, late Bishop of Derry. The Pillar is a very fine Block of Black Marble, the Urn and Mitre White, and surrounded with Iron Pallisades.

Last Saturday the Baltimore Man of War, of 20 Guns, arriv'd here, with the Right Hon. the Lord Limerick and his Family on board her.

Sunday last arriv'd here from England the Right Rev. Dr. Fletcher, Lord Bishop of Kildare, and several Persons of Distinction. There also arriv'd within these three Days past, above 50 Sail of Merchantmen, of which a great many are laden with Corn, from England and Wales.

Last Thursday Evening, about Seven o'Clock, a young Gentleman was robbed on Drumcondra Road, by a Footpad, near the Two Mile Stone; who clapt a Pistol to his Breast, which the Gentleman put by with his Hand, but went off, and shot him in the Thumb; which he is in great Danger of losing, the Bone being broke. He told the Gentleman, after he had taken from him about 4 l. that another would attack him, unless he gave a Signal; which he did by putting his Finger in his Mouth, and giving a loud whistle.

Last Sunday Morning a Rape was committed on the Body of Dorothy Owens, Widow, aged 105 Years, by one Corn. Monaghan, Patrick Brennan, and James Brennan, who dragg'd her into a waste House near the Red Cow on Finglas Road, where each of them had Carnal Knowledge of her. They broke one of her Arms, and abused her in so barbarous manner, that she died Yesterday. She made Remonstrances against them till Sunday, and Warrants are issued out; so that 'tis hoped they will be soon brought to Justice.

SCOTLAND.

Extrait of a Letter from Skirrt.

* The Fellow who was apprehended here, having been examined by the Justices, under the Name of David Hay, proves now to be one David Gillis, Son to John Gillis in Pittleff-Mill in Fife Shire. He had served a Noble Earl in that Shire, whom he had tricked, as he had done several others, and for which he had been imprisoned. There were found on him many Letters in Cyphers, with two Bills of 60,000 l. each, upon two People of London; also several Letters writ by him, and subscribed Ch. Stuart, which he acknowledged; all which we have sent to Edinburgh for Advice. He had been in this Country twelve Years ago, under the Name of Melvil, a Linmer. He and his Associates are closely confined.

COUNTRY NEWS.

Bristol, June 29. Last Sunday, between the Hours of Two and Three in the Afternoon, there happen'd the most violent Claps of Thunder, attended with Lightning and heavy Rains, that has been known in these Parts for some Years. At Hanham, four Miles from this City, it struck Part of a House down, melted the Lead of the Windows, and bepangl'd it all about the Walls; it also pierc'd the very solid Stones of the House. At Busselton Common it rent and split the Gibbet in a thousand little Splinters; and York the Grenadier, who hung in Chains thereon, was thrown on the Ground; in his Pocket, tho' he had hung upwards of four Years, was found a legible Manuscript of his Confession.

Last Wednesday Morning, as two Men were viewing the Gun-Room, &c. of the Townsend Privateer carelessly with a Candle, it unhappily set some combustible Instruments on Fire about their Ears, and very much burnt them; and had the Store of Powder been on board, it is thought the Ship, with those near her in the Dock, must have blown up.

Norwich, June 29. Last Wednesday Morning a Hothead of this City, being under Disorder of Mind, hang'd himself in his Workshop. The Coroner's Inquest brought in their Verdict Non Compos mortis. He was a very honest Man, and one that bore a fair Character.

Last Thursday Morning a Stage Coach going from this City for London, was stop'd at a small Distance from St. Stephen's Gates by a Highwayman, who follow'd the Coach out of the said Gates; he took from the Passengers a considerable Sum of Money, and came back into the City the same Way, and is not yet discovered.

She was ransom'd for 500 l. Most of the Vessels mention'd in my last are sail'd without Convoy this Day. Just now came in a Dutch Man of War, who has brought in the Alexander, of and from London for Barbados; which was taken some Days since by two French Privateers, and retaken Yesterday off the Isle of Bass. ## L O N D O N.

Some private Letters from Vienna insinuate, that as soon as his Royal Highness puts himself at the Head of the Combined Armies, he will pass the Rhine, and march directly towards Lorrain.

Some private Letters from the Hague inform us, that they have Intelligence there of his Prussian Majesty's making himself Master of Konigsgratz on the 21st of June, N. S. the Austrians and Saxons being retired to Pardubitz.

The same Letters say, that Baron Dort, who commanded in Tournay, has Orders to publish a distinct Journal of the Siege, to refute certain Calumnies that gain Ground; and to satisfy the People in general as to his Conduct.

Capt. Brett, of the Lion Man of War, has taken, and brought into Portsmouth, a French Man of War's Sloop, with 12 Carriage Guns, and 110 Men; supposed to be the same which took the Mediator Sloop of War bound to the West Indies.

The Lords Commissioners of Trade and Plantations have appointed ——— Pownell, Esq; to be their Secretary, in the room of William Popple, Esq; made Governor of Bermudas.

Yesterday the Right Hon. the Earl of Orford, Auditor of his Majesty's Exchequer, set out from his House in Stephen's Court, New Palace Yard, Westminster, for his Seat at Houghton Hall in Norfolk.

The same Day the Right Hon. the Earl of Stair took the Oaths in the High Court of Chancery, to qualify himself for his Post in the Army.

A curious Monument is setting up in Hillingdon Church in Middlesex, to the Memory of the late Earl of Uxbridge.

Last Sunday part of the Ceiling of King-street Chapel, Golden Square, fell down in the Time of Divine Service; which so alarmed the Congregation, that many of them received much Hurt by endeavouring to get out.
